

MONARCH AT A GLANCE

Who we are

One of North Carolina's most trusted providers, Monarch provides support statewide to thousands of people with intellectual and developmental disabilities, mental illness and substance use challenges. The agency is nationally accredited by The Council on Quality and Leadership (CQL) and certified by The N.C. Department of Health and Human Services as a Critical Access Behavioral Health Agency (CABHA). Monarch operates The Arc of Stanly County, which is a chapter of The Arc of North Carolina and The Arc of the United States. We work with individuals and families to help their dreams take flight. We listen. We encourage. We empower.

How we got started

In 1958, families with a common bond gathered in a friend's living room to find ways for their children with intellectual or developmental delays to experience a better life in their community. They wanted to create opportunities for people who society viewed as limited. Today, under the guidance of our Board of Directors, Monarch is grateful and proud to carry on the original vision of hope and perseverance.

What we believe

We believe in people, even when they may not believe in themselves. We believe that people living with intellectual or developmental disabilities, mental illness, and substance use challenges deserve the chance to define themselves not by their diagnoses, but by their dreams.

How we help

DREAMS TAKE FLIGHT

Monarch provides support to people and families across North Carolina to ensure they are living valued lives and are on the way to fulfilling their dreams. We provide a safe and nurturing environment that enables our staff to interact in a more meaningful way with every person we support.

Through community, mental health, medical support, residential, employment, education, vocational, and day support services for children and adults, we help people help themselves. The people we support are involved in the process of selecting qualified and caring Monarch professionals who will work with them, their family members, and caregivers to formulate a relevant, customized plan that helps to meet their needs, goals and dreams.

"As a parent, it is great to know my daughter is being cared for while I work. She loves going to her Monarch "home" and talks to me about her caregivers every day. "Happy" is the only word for us. Thanks so much for all you do." — a Monarch mother
