Programs and Services

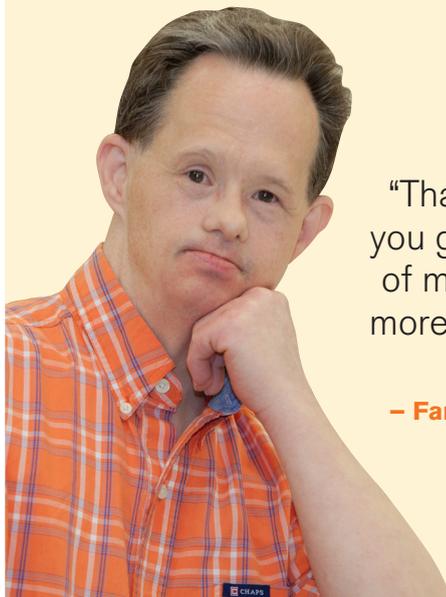

Monarch Everyday Life focuses on independence, providing family support, and community involvement and inclusion. We help people build relationships, assist others with going to school, fulfill their spiritual desires, find their dream job, enjoy their hobbies, and make friends in the communities where they live and work.

Monarch Residential Options provide a variety of independent and shared living arrangements for individuals of all ages in need of support. Houses, apartments, condos and group homes are just a few examples of the many housing opportunities and levels of Monarch support available. We also provide respite services to allow family members to enjoy personal time with their loved one who is cared for by attentive professionals.

Monarch Vocational Options give people the opportunity to acquire employable skills, train for specific jobs, learn interview and interpersonal skills for the workplace, and maintain employment over time. As a result of the work experience, individuals gain a sense of self-worth and achievement as well as earn their own income, allowing for greater freedom of choice and direction. We also seek out enriching volunteer opportunities for people who wish to give back and experience inclusion within the community.
